

[REDACTED]

From: James Hannan [REDACTED]
Sent: Monday, January 21, 2013 2:54 PM
To: LNGStudy
Subject: 2012 LNG Export Study

To the Department of Energy:

My name is James P. Hannan and as a US Army veteran, I am writing you today to encourage you to support the exportation of Liquefied Natural Gas. I recently learned about a NERA study that showed that exporting some of our abundant natural gas is a major opportunity for the US. The study found that such exports would be beneficial to the US economy, extending far beyond the natural gas industry. Our economy can use all the help it can get, right now. We have more natural gas than we need and exporting it could really stimulate the economy. It could generate jobs and investments. We need to do everything we can to get America back to work!

Thanks,

James P. Hannan
US Army (retired)
Mentor OH